One of the past musical directors and band leaders of the Tonight Show with Jay Leno has said "Maggie has a voice that defies categorization – jazz, Broadway, standards and novelty songs...She is a richly talented entertainer who has that special something that captures an audience." We hope you join us to enjoy what plans to be a great night of music!

Remembering "The Automat"

Tuesday, March 26th at 10:00 a.m. in the Auditorium please join us for the documentary, Automat. It is a story of the Horn and Hardart family's business in New York City and Philadelphia. The director and producer, Lisa Hurwitz will be attending with Norris Horn, our board member, and a grand nephew of the original founding "Horn." The automats once operated by and founded in 1888 by Joseph Horn and Frank Hardart noted for operating the first food service antomats. The restaurants were a new concept in food service then, borrowed from a successful German eatery. The Automats immediately captured America's interest and imagination. They were the restaurant industry's first attempt at emulating the assembly line. The heart of a city may beat loudest in its restaurants, the places where people gather to eat and drink, to gossip and celebrate. In New York City and Philadelphia, for some 80 years, the Horn & Hardart Automats were the best measure of the pulse of city life, according to Lisa Hurwitz's delightful documentary. Even if you have never had the pleasure of eating in an Automat, Lisa brings the experience to life. She also traces the rise and fall of this minichain as an indication of the changing habits of diners, and ordinary citizens, across the span of the 20th century. And, best of all, Lisa gets Mel Brooks on camera, waxing poetic about his Brooklyn childhood and, specifically, his love for the Automat. What more do you want from a documentary? After viewing the documentary film there will be time for questions and answers with Mr. Horn, then we can enjoy some of their famous recipes from chicory coffee to dessert.

- Classic Movie – “Darby O’Gill & the Little People – 1959 – 112 mins
Starring: Albery Sharpe, Sean Connery and Janet Munro

A mixture of Irish Folklore, some spectacular Special Effects and a wonderful cast provides us with an enchanting fantasy for all time. Storyteller/Caretaker Darby O’Gill is desperately seeking the proverbial pot of gold. What stands in his way is a 21-inch Leprechaun named King Brian, a trickster indeed. To obtain the gold Darby must match wits against this foe, no small task indeed. A fun filled adventure of magic, mirth, and non-stop shenanigans. AND - Sean Connery gets to SING! Darby spins so many tales that the local residents are skeptical when he says he befriended the King of Leprechauns. An utter delight, plenty of whimsy, dazzling special effects + some truly terrifying moments. From Walt Disney Pictures.
